"Victory Bell" Commented On By President of Rockdale School Board

The clapper on the "Victory Bell" is quite but the bell is still making itself known by the noise resounding throughout Cameron and Rockdale, for which it is responsible .

Latest comment on the bell came from W. T. Scurlock, president of the Rockdale School Board.

He stated, "About three weeks ago there was an article in the Rockdale Reporter that quoted Dr. Swift as saying that Cameron left the bell over here after the ball game because they were instructed to do so, actually we were willing to deliver the bell that Friday night but the Cameron School officials called us Friday morning and said the only way they would go through with the deal at all was that they would not pick up the bell Friday night if they won but that they wanted the Rockdale school to deliver it to them Monday morning if Cameron won."

"Then I read in the Midget" Mr. Scurlock continued, "That the thing is to be discontinued by the Rockdale School board."

"The facts are these, the Rockdale board discussed this Tuesday night and voted to leave it up to the Cameron school officials whether this was to be continued or discontinued.

He later added, "We didn't particularly care about continuing it but if Cameron wanted to continue it we would do so."

Scurlock reminded that their school board has never before made comment on the situation but felt that the facts should be printed.

Later, Dr. Clifford Swift, president of the Cameron School Board, stated that the matter of the bell would be brought up at the board meeting this week and their conclusions will then be announced.

Ben Milam Has Formal Opening December 5

Ben Milam School held its appropriate formal opening ceremonies and open house Sunday, December 5, with approximately 300 school patrons in attendance.

Main speaker at the short ceremony was Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of the Texas Education Agency in Austin. He spoke on the progress of education and brought out that this is the centennial year of public schools in Texas.

Dr. Edgar, who was on the evaluation committee which reviewed Camerons facilities and needs, five years ago congratualted the city and school officials on their physical plant, particularly on their newest addition, the Ben Milam School the last of the buildings deemed necessary by the evaluation committee in their report to the school board.

Dr. Clifford Swift, president of the Cameron school board, gave the welcoming address and introduced the school officials, administrators and school board members to the school patrons.

At the ceremony and also introduced were Preston Geren, architect and Frank Newton, his assistant.

The Yoe High Choral Group sang several selections, directed by Francis Cox.

Reverend A. F. Russell of the First Baptist Church in Cameron gave the invocation.

Many floral arrangements, presented by friends of the school, were used as decorations.

Every Motion Gets 3 - 2 Vote By Council; Home Rule Ord. Presented

Councilmen stood two to three in most matters requiring a vote at the City Council meeting in the City Hall Tuesday night.

One side of the council, composed of Robert Weems, Gene Blake and Milton Schiller proposed several measures for city improvements and passed the motions over the no's of Johnny Andres and Roy Griffith with the Mayor backing the conservative "no" side of the table.

The first project, in the way of an experiment, was brought up by Robert Weems, who contended that the dust has created a problem in Cameron all year and as a measure of relief he proposed to top one street with asphalt, after getting the road in condition by grading.

The project would cost approximately five and one-half cents per square foot according to the cost of the hot oil, according to Weems, and if successful would be an inexpensive way to treat all of the city streets, which would alleviate the dust in all sections.

Andres expressed himself as being against it unless it was paid for by the home owners. Griffith voted no to the measure and the Mayor stated "I think you're really fixing to get into trouble; if you do it on one street everybody else will want it done, too."

Blake and Schiller said they would like to see the experiment completed and if possible, if the money held out, do it to all streets if the experiment was successful.

Blake wiped his brow momentarily when his motion to top the much used street in front of Simon-George Hall from old highway 36 to new highway 36 received no second for a minute or two. Schiller supplied the second, Blake relievedly said, "I though it was going to die -- guess I'm sticking my neck out there."

The mayor pointed out that the city had promised by letter to surface the street from the Baptist church to the highway and some money should be kept on hand for that matter.

Blake, full of quick repartees, called for another touche', when he reminded the Mayor that project had been on the fire for a year and if "we don't work any faster than we have been, we'll have some money by the time its ready."

It was brought out that the trees on that street stand in the way of improved street progress and the home-owners will have to cooperate fully before the improvements can be made.

Weems was authorized to order a blinker light which will be installed at the intersection of Fannin and Highway 36 as a traffic safety were pumped last month, eight He stated that 13,299,000 gallons with expenditures of $1,703.28.

ment and eight okeyed. Revenues

Andres and Blake reported on samples sent to the health depart- for the month reached $6,129.51 measure.

At the beginning of the meeting the councilmen opened bids for a new one and one-half ton truck for the city and voted to accept the bid offered by Hefley Stedman for a new V-8 Ford in the amount of $1,849.95.

Andres and Balke reported on the recent meeting concerning water held in Temple and said they had been assured that normal flow of the river would be maintained.

Each of the councilmen brought out some point in the original water grant and Blake met each statement with the question "Have you seen it: (the grant)" and each councilman and the Mayor answered "No". He was called a "doubting Thomas" but remained adamant on the matter saying that he would like to see the grant at the next meeting.

While discussing the water situation the Mayor asked if the council wouldn't discuss the possibility of putting in a filtering plant. Talk centered on the matter momentarily but Blake killed it with "I don't think the people would authorize a bond, if they can't afford 75 cents for garbage pick-up".

Several needed projects were Griffith voted no, with the motion passing three to two.

Blake then shocked the council with a counter-proposal on the garbage pick-up which he has backed so strenuously. He made the motion that the city furnish one free garbage pick-up weekly in all the residential sections with a prepared schedule informing all people of the days of pickup in their section published.

Anders and Griffith, who were against Blakes other proposal that the city have a regular, twice weekly, mandatory pick-up at 75 cents per home-owner, were also against the new motion, saying that there were a lot of people who would be willing to pay.

Blake stated that his primary aim was to clean up the town and "I firmly believe that there are some people who want free garbage pick-up".

The motion carried, three to two.

One of the concluding matters on the agenda, and deemed most important by councilmen, was the presentation of the ordinance to elect 15 men to the committee in charge of writing the city charter, which would later be voted on b the general public.

Councilmen, who would be in charge of suggesting two names

Councilmen, who would be in charge of suggesting two names with the Mayor proposing five names, decided to think on the matter of committee names until the next meeting.

Prize To Be Given Best Display In Jaycee Yule Home Decoration

Christmas decorations this year can not only add to your festivity and celebration of the yuletide but also prove lucritive to your pocket book since Junior Chamber of Commerce officials are awarding prizes for the best home decorations in the city.

A first prize of a $25 saving bond will be awarded; a $15 cash prize will be awarded the second place winner; the person placing third will be presented $10 in cash and the next two receiving honorable mention will receive a $5.00 cash award each.

The judges, who will be from Rockdale, will make a tour of the city and judge the home decoration Monday night, December 20.

Everyone within the city can enter by choosing their decoration and carrying it out on the lawns or porches of their homes.

The amount of money spent will not increase the individuals chance to win. Home owners will find that many beautiful and decorative arrangements and themes can be carried out with cedar, holly, pine boughs or other greenery and Christmas lights.

There will be many deciding factors in the judging of the contest. Some of the factors will be originality, workmanship, arrangement, light and color. It was reminded by local authorities working with the contest that lighting, used to the best advantage, can do much in the final effect of the display. They added to be generous with bright colors, using colors that will best highlight the decoration and make it interesting and eye- catching.

There are many favorable settings for displays, the lawn in front or to the side of your home, the roof of the house, picture window, or the porch of the house. Any setting will be approved and favorable.

No application must be made, since the judges will visit every section of the city and present awards after having seen all home displays.

Decorations may be inside or outside the house, but they must be visible from the street.

This contest has added greatly to the Christmas spirit of Cameronites in the past and Jaycees are hopeful that an even greater number of homes will be decorated this year.

Last year Mrs. Rube Johnson was the winner of the first prize and $25. Mrs. J. C. Brashear, Jr., placed second for the $15 award and Mrs. W. R. Newton placed third for the $5.00 prize. Mrs. Bill Burns and Mrs. M. A. Hearne received honorable mention.

FOOTBALL —

intercepted a Yoe pass on the Cameron 45 and romped to the Yoe 36 yard line. After several fruitful plays, Killeen fumbled, and Cameron took over on their own 19 yard line. One play later the third quarter ended.

The Yoemen began the fourth quarter with Michalka hitting end Albert Mondrik for a 60 yard pass and the Yoemen set up a touchdown drive once more, only to fumble it away again on the Killeen 16 yard line.

After a few plays Killeen fumbled on their on 19 yard line and Cameron defensive star, Clifford Angell quickly covered up the ball for the Yoemen.

The Yoemen failed to move and on the Cameron 36 yard line. They moved to the Yoe 13 yard line with the Yoemen holding the mighty 'Roos and then took over on downs.

Cameron strived desperately for yardage, but Killeen held and a fourth down gamble deep in their own territory lacked only a few feet and Killeen took over on the Cameron 21 yard line.

Kirchoff again set up the touchdown on a 17 yard race with Reding adding the score. With 30 seconds left in the ball game, Reding ran over for the extra point and Killeen added one for good measure, 27-7.

Cited as outstanding for the Yoemen on defens e were Absnaider and Angell. Michalka was also praised for his passing during the evening.

and the recommendation had been made that he cut it down and make a flume. I went out to talk to him about it one afternoon, and the flume had already been shaped and sodded, and he was hauling water to get the grass started."

Construction of the flume involved cutting down the overfall long by use of a bulldozer and then sodding it with bermuda grass and adding fertilizer.

Believeing in a good rotation program, Mr. Polzer plants about one-third of his cropland in oats and in a strip approximately 80 feet clover each year.

He takes care to see that all crop residue is either mulched or grazed.

Another face of the conservation program on the Polzer farm -- which, by the way provides off-time recreation for Mr. Polzer and his five sons--is the fish management program, which has been carried out in his farm ponds.

Each of Mr. Polzer's five sons has been active in farming. All five belonged to the Cameron chapter of Future Farmers of America, and three of the four oldest boys expect to make farming their life's work.

One of the five boys was a winner of the Lone Star Farmer award.

The youngest boy, Steve, still in high school, was credited for the start of raising pigs on the Polzer farm. The boy took pigs as his project in FFA work, and the Polzer's now sell an average of around 40 Duroc-Jersey pigs yearly.

The surprising factor in Mr. Polzer's farming is that shortly after he got the farm, he set up a terrace system only to later realize that the system "wasn't getting the job done."

So he completely revamped his entire terrace system, correcting all of the deficiencies in the first set of terraces.

To receive his $25 award at a dinner of the Temple Kiwanis club on Dec. 7, Mr. Polzer, who proved that a farmer could take rough land and make a good living, has been recognized by the board of supervisors of the Central Texas Soil Conservation district in their slection for a tribute he well deserves.

RANDLE LAKE —

still more grazing and offering opportunity to put up some good hay. About 20,000 bales of it, this year.

As the summer wears on, cotton and maize grow in the fourth tract. When the grain is combined and stored, and the cotton picked, into this field come the steers to put on more pounds grazing on the still green maize stubble. Volunteer grazing in the combined oats field offers more feed.

Now comes October again. The steers have been on the plantation a year. They average about 800 pounds -- 450 pounds of gain per head. Most of this was accomplished on oats -- yet a grain crop off the same oats is in the barn; on maize foliage -- yet a maize crop is in the barn; and on alfalfa and clover -- legumes that have likely put more into the soil than they took out.

Time now to put the finishing touches on the steers. In the grain storage building, a feed mill grinds maize and oats. This feed is automatically loaded into a combination feed mixer-distributor, equipped with an agitator in its big hopper. Here the grains are mixed, as in a great concrete mixer, with cotton-seed meal. No dollars go out of the pocket for the meal. Seed from the cotton crop is traded for it.

Half-split steel drums, mounted on legs, serve as feed troughs. An auger on the mixer-distributor, pulled by tractor, spouts the feed into the troughs for the steers, now in the feed lot.

On this ration and a filler of johnson grass hay, steers on the farm in the past have averaged about two pounds of gain a day.

In late December, Angell starts topping out animals for market, and by January's end the steers have been marketed at the average weight of about 950 pounds, grading 50-50 good and choice, on the basis of past experience.

Once the steers are gone, the farm manager then turns his attention back to the new bunch of calves, which by this time are at work on the oats, hubam and alfalfa in the bottom.

Since Angell must pay tops for the kind of six-months-old calf he wants, at market time he is depending mainly on his gain alone for profit. For this reason the gain must be inexpensive, and this end is accomplished by putting most of the weight on the animals with grazing -- not hunt-and-pick grazing, either, but green forage high in protein and vitamin content.

At first, the plantation attempted to carry on the steer enterprise without feeding grain, but found that steers could not, on grazing alone, be boosted to the high grades which command top market prices. So, the home-grown grain feeding was added, and both Angell and owners Evans and Wortham now believe they've "hit on a good thing."

Santa Gertrudis, paper-shelled pecans, quarter horses and cotton on the halves

While steers are the bread and butter at Randle Lake plantation, producing beef for market is by no means the only enterprise carried on

The old plantation was farmed to cotton for many years and the families of field hands who once toiled in the bottom are still welcome members of the farm "staff." Eight families of workers -- not counting Ozell Angell's -- live on the place under conditions which their fathers probably never dreamed of.

Each spring the head of every family is given 20 acres of good bottomland to raise cotton on the halves. This is done mainly to encourage them to stick around, which they certainly do. And under the guidance of Angell, the workers employ scientific cotton production methods to produce yields which they likely haven't seen since that Little River Bottom was first plowed many, many years ago. The cotton is planted all in one block and all hands work it as a unit, getting their share at the end of the cropyear. This furnishes the families with work when labor requirements on the farm might otherwise sometimes find them with nothing to do. For the place is equipped with a great line-up of labor saving devices.

But it is nice to have these hands around, for instance, when the great spread of paper-shelled pecan trees owned by the plantation along the river are ready to b threshed.

These workers also come in handy in preparing for such events as the recent cattle and horse sale held by owners Evans and Wortham. Two years ago, the ranch acquired some Santa Gertrudis breeding stock and set out to develop a herd. Early in November of this year the breeders had progressed to the point that they offered 14 males and 12 females at auction, held in a new barn built on the farm for the purpose. Evans and Wortham are in the Santa Gertrudis bredding business to stay and plan the auction as an annual event. The farm also breeds quarter horses and offered 14 head along with the cattle at the recent auction.

The auction barn, though adequate and convenient, is not swanky, and this no doubt reflects the influence of Manager Angell, a man who dislikes to spend money "for show." The other improvements on the place -- and many have been built since the old plantation was purchased -- show the same influence, with the emphasis on usefulness.

Angell will say openly that he took the job of managing the plantation on one condition -- that he could operate it as a practical unit. The owners, Evans and Wortham, replied that they wanted it no other way, and so things have been.

In spite of a fairly large labor supply on the farm, Angell never hesitates to take advantage of a labor saving idea which might save a few man hours. At present, with his pecans at maturity, he has one man at work in the pecan orchard rigging up and tending to what might be called "explosive scare crows."

The "scarecrow" is a long, slow burning rope fuse, to which are attached firecrackers. The firecrackers are spaced along the fuse at the desired interval and hung in a pecan tree, with the fuse burning. Every few minutes -- depending on how far apart the charges are spaced -- the fuse touches off a firecracker. Any small boys who happen to be picking up a few pecans on the wrong side of the fence will think somebody has taken after them with a 12-gauge shotgun.

But small boys are not the problem. Angell is more interested in crows, which as any pecan grower knows can harvest an awful lot of paper shelled pecans. (Many more, in fact, than a schoolhouse full of small boys). The firecracker idea--now also being used on some farms and ranches to discourage deer from eating crops at night -- has done a fair job of discouraging Mr. Crow, which is not an easy thing to do.

The development of the old plantation makes an interesting and valuable show for neighboring farmers. The work has been an eye-opening demonstration for all of Milam County, in everything from fencing and land clearing down to the slick little set of sheds and fences built on the place to house the steers fed out by Angell's sons.

Herman Jahnke is spending a couple of days in Brenham were he is a guests of his four sisters and one brother.

Lone Star Gas Endorses S-Day December 15

D. A. Hulcy of Dallas, Lone Star Gas Company president, has endorsed the December 15 "S-D Day" sponsored by President Eisenhower's Action committee for Traffic Safety.

"S-D Day" is "Safe Driving Day" a day to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially when each motorist and pedestrian accepts full personal responsibility of all traffic regulations.

"The goal for S-D Day," said Hulcy, "is for every community to go accident-free for the 24 hour period of December 15, when every citizen is being asked to drive and walk as he would have everyone else drive and walk."

Hulcy said that Lone Star employees are aligned in a solid front to support S-D Day. However, he stated, our employees are constantly under going a safety education program with the purpose of making every day a day of safe-driving. He added that accomplishments of the company employees in traffic safety have resulted in recognition from the National Safety Council.

Castor Beans Shipped By Tons Here This Week

Over 2,000 tons of castor beans are pouring into the Southland Oil Company here in Cameron this week from all points in Texas and surrounding states forming the bean.

According to Robert Glenn of the local A. S. C. office, only a minority of the beans will come from Milam County, since only approximately 40,000 pounds were harvested in this area this year.

The beans, which were purchased by the government price support allocation of six cents per ound by Southland Company, is being sold on grades, with the local A. S. C. officials grading off the farm material.

The beans are being shipped to Cameron via truck and will be crushed into oil and later sell on the open market.

The oil is used primarily for hydrolics, petroleums and for jets.

Bulletin Out On Insect Control In Stored Grain

Identity, prevention and control of insects which invade stored grains is the subject of a new bulletin recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Titled "Stored Grain Insects", the publication estimates that insects eat up to two percent of the nation's farm-stored grain each month. Losses are due primarily to unclean storage structures or to high temperatures and high moisture which encourage a build-up of the insects.

The bulletin pictures the common stored grain insects of Texas. It tells how clean and prepare bins for storage using a residual spray of DDT, methoxychlor or TDE.

Different controls for insects in grain to be used for seed and and when to apply -- also are covered.

Copies of the bulletin, L-217, are available from offices of county agricultural agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Union Of Presbyterians Up For Vote

Three outstanding Southern Presbyterian leaders have gone on record publicly for the first time in favor of the proposed union of the three major Presbyterian bodies in America.

Reverend John Solomon, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, stated that five or six years ago he would have been for the union "without blinking an eye" but now, in view of several policies that have come up in the individual churches recently he thought that each church could possibly work better individually but in unison toward their common cause.

He stated that he firmly believes that there should b a spirit of unity between all three Presbyterian Churches, the U. S. A., U. S. and U. P. since the issues over which the Churches originally divided in the Civil War are dead.

He added that he doubts seriously whether the necessary majority for union of the churches will be attained at the next General Assembly in Richmond, Va. during the later part of May.

Presbyterian leaders gave their statements, in the current issu of The Presbyterian Outlook these men give their reasons for favoring the union of the churches, divided for nearly 100 years. The Presbyterian U. S. A. Church and the Presbyterian U. S. (Southern) Church divided at the time of the Civil War. The United Presbyterian, smallest of the three in the negotiations, split off long before in Scotland.

Dr. Lacy favors the union, he said, because "it will permit the pooling of the resources of our churches and the opening of wider vistas and avenues of service. It will provide nationwide aims and objectives." Particularly in world missions, he said, there will be great advantages.

Dr. McCain, who is a member of the General Assembly's committee working on union, declared that the General Assmbly has votd overwhelmingly to carry forward this vote for union. He is in favor of submitting to "God's guidance" in this issue, and, he said, "It will please me if this means reunion with our brethren."

The one I could not save.
A bitter shock, a grief severe,
To part with the one I loved so dear.

I hold you in my dreams at night

That you are really gone.
You were so wonderful to me
So gentle, sweet and kind.
May God bless you darling
And give me strength to carry on.

A contribution of only one dollar will assure the delivery of two food packages weighing 28 pounds.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER CLAIMS CRASHING DEBT LIMIT WORSE THAN CRASHING THRU SOUND BARRIER

Editors's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River is writing about something he may have an authoritative knowledge of this week, debts.

Dear Editar:

Every once in a while somebody refers to me as non-progressive, and I guess if you want to judge a man's thinkin ability by how clean his fields are there might be something to it, but that's what comes of taking a superficial view.

I would like to report that for the past few years I have been neck and neck with no less an enterprise than the aviation industry. which everybody knows is progressive.

While the aviation industry has been hard at work on faster and faster airplanes, having now reached the point where it has broken through the sound limit, I have not been asleep figuratively speaking.

My experiment, which probably has more relation to the individual than aviation's, has consisted attempts to break the debt limit.

I have read of pilots' reports on their wrought-up feelings as they heard the sound limit and then crashed through, and I can report that edginig toward the debt limit and then crashing through is just as nerve-wracking and perilous.

Furthermore, my experiments have been more independent, I didn't have a government appropriation or inexhaustible funds from a foundation behind me, I've had to do mine on my own, almost on a shoestring, with considerable grumbling from the people in charge of the debt limit, who have resisted scientific exploration at every trun.

And also, while I understand when a pilot crashes through the sound barrier everything becomes peaceful and quiet, I can report I found nothing like that on the other side of the debt limit. It gets noisier as you approach the limit, and then gets worse after you crash through. Some people do not appreciate scientific reseach.

I understand some people are contending the government, if it keeps on spending, will reach the debt limit, and I've heard of Congressmen trying to pass bills getting the limit extended, and if it can be done, if the limit can be extended every time the government approaches it, it'll be a fine thing, but I've got my doubts. For whatever it's worth, I would like to let the government know there is a debt limit and things are worse on the other side than this side. The sound barrier is a much safer thing to crash.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

December 14 Big Day For Cotton Growers; Decide On Market Quotas

Cotton growers have a red letter day Tuesday, December 14. That day growers will decide whether marketing quotas will continue in effect on the 1955 crop, Claude K. McCan, chairman of the state ASC committee, reminds farmers.

"The decision will affect every cotton grower and it's important that each cast a ballot," says McCan. All farmers who grew upland cotton this year will be eligible to vote in the referendum, which will be held in each upland cotton growing county in Texas. At least two-thirds of the growers voting in the nationwide poll must approve the quotas if they are to continue, he explains.

The vote follows the Secretary of Agriculture's proclamation of a national marketing quota and acreage allotments for the '55 crop. Such a proclamation must be made "total supply" of cotton exceeds the "normal supply."

Under the marketing quota program, growers who do not exceed their acreage allotment may market free of penalty the entire crop from the farm. Growers exceeding their allotments will be subject to penalties of 50 per cent of parity on the farm's excess production.

If farmers approve the referendum, the price support on cotton to eligible growers will be between 82.5 and 90 percent of parity.

Victory Bell Returned Tuesday Just As Mysteriously as It Was Taken

The mysterious disappearance of the "Victory Bell" won by Cameron in the Rockdale-Cameron football game was climaxed Tuesday morning by its just as mysterious return.

It was found on theporchofthe Rockdale school band hall, none the worse for wear and without any explanation as to why or who took the bell.

Rockdale school officials contacted W. T. Hanes, Cameron School superintendent, Wednesday morning and told him that the school board there had unanimously dedecided to keep the bell at one or the other of the schools.

cided, because of the unpleasant situation created by the bell, that they would discontinue all use of the bell for football purposes.

He asked Hanes to have the Cameron School approve the policy and Camron to also discontinue vieing for the bell. Hanes stated that he would bring the matter up at the next school board meeting for discussion.

Yoe Loses First Basketball Game With La Vega; Schedule Outlined

Cameron Yoe High schools basketball team came up one point short in their first basketball game of the season Monday night against La Vega. The La Vega boys were eligible for a couple of free shots on a Cameron foul and, in the final seconds of the games, brought the score to 39-33 in the Pirates favor.

Joseph Michalka was the high point man on the Cameron team with 18 points to his credit. He was topped only by the top LaVega player, Robert Scott, who scored 20 points during the game.

Coach Dick Young said that the local boys didn't look too good, but felt that a whole lot of the cause was this being their first game of the season in comparison to La-Vegas third game. They have won two and los t one thus far.

Coach Young particularly commended Michalka, Joe Lee Heitman, Fred Petmecky, Center and Jimmy Rettig, guard on their playing ability saying that they are on the lookout for another good guard and he feels that they will give the top teams some worthy competition for district title.

Sportscasters have favored the Georgetown and Taylor teams so far, with Coach Young agreeing that both their teams are good, but added that the local boys are no slouches on the floor and, with a few more games under their belt and some actual competitive experience this year, Yoe boys may give the other schools a run for their money.

The Yoe team was caught a little short when Leon Beale, slated to be a top-notch player, quit the squad to work, and left no experienced player to replace him.

Cameron's schedule so far with B team opening the play at 6:45 and A team games at 8:00 p. m. is: next Friday, December 10, the local boys will meet the West team (proclaimed to be the best in the State) in the local gymnasium. Last year West barely eked out a win over Cameron by a final score of 45-44.

December 14 the local team will compete against the LaVega team for the second time, although this time the game is scheduled here.

December 17 and 18 the boys are playing in an invitational tournament in Hutto, where 16 teams are entered.

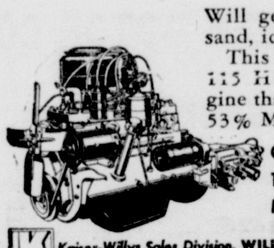

January 4 Cameron will again meet West on their floor and January 7 and 8 the boys are registered in the Georgetown Invitational Tournament.

From there the District play will begin, with all the schools in 22AA playing a double round-robin. Schedule will be announced in the near future.

Models On Display Here Now

-by Lloyd Albertson

They're bigger, longer, wider, lower and sleeker than ever bfor. The have more power, more color, more advanced streamliing.

They are the new model automobiles for 1955.

Each of the new models, as it their appearance here in Cameron for th past few wks. Most of thm are on display now on dealer's showroom floors - only a few are yet to come.

Each of the new models , at made its appearance, has been accompanied by a loud fanfare of publicity - as anyone knows who has read a newspaper, flipped through the advertising pages of a magazine, or spun a radio or television dial recently. The advertising campaigns, in fact, like the cars, have been slightly terrific. Detroit really went to town - apparently to a town named Hollywood, and borrowed some of its collossal, stupendous descriptions for its 1955 product. There hasn't been any such all-out advertising effort in the automobile world, fact, in years. For anything similar, it is necessary to go back a couple of decades or more to the late Jazz Age of the 1920's which was also, as times have become now, a buyer's market, with the orders going to the most enterprising company.

All of this, naturally, has had more than a few local effects. Dealers showrooms around town have been spruced up.

Along with the display of the new cars, they have elaborate picture displays of the company's various models, and advertising banners hang outside. The showroom floor, more often than not, has been given a fresh coat of paint for the occasion.

But while the automobile companies undoubtedly have spent a lot of time, and money, on their advertising campaigns, they didn't stop there. Their new models are their own best advertismnt. Mayb they arn't, as som of the ads claim, all nw from the ground up, but they admittedly do sport a number of major changes. Mainly these seem to fall into two categories -- more power and better appearance, achived through mor advanced streamlining and use of color.

And there is color, color, color. Not only just any one color, but many models have two-tone combinations, with one or two companies even putting out a three-tone job. It is a long way, in fact, from the old Model T days when Henry Ford is reported to have said that car buyers could have any color they chose as long as it was black.

First of the '55 cars to appear on the national and local scene were the new Studebaker models, distributed here by Michalka Motors. They were followed, after a short delay, by Chevrolet, distributed by Grabein, one of whose models was a brand new V-8. And Chevvy, in turn, was followed on November 12 by its long-time competitor, Ford, several of whose swank new Fairlane models went on display at Hefley-Stedman.

The next week rally stepped up the pace, howvr. No lss than a half dozen new models appeared at local showrooms. Th entire Chrysler line - Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler - came out. So did GM's Pontiac and Oldsmobile, Pontiac being distributed by McLain and Oldsmobile by Mitchan Motors. Dodge models went on display at Schiller Motors, De Soto at Duncum, Chrysler at Green Motor Company; and both Schiller and Green are distributors for Plymouth, which also has a new V-8 model.

Since then there has been a lull-which was broken, however, when the '55 Mercury models made their apparance at the new Burkes-Howard agency here yesterday.

All in all, it would seem that the Detroit automobile makers have done it again - have given the motoring public, whatever its preferences may be, somthing to enhance its favorite pastime of going places sitting down.

Because the new 1955 models -- like the advertisements say -- ar sleecker than ever bfor.

Power has really been upped. Even the popular low-priced three - Ford, Chevrolet, Plymouth -- have 162 horsepower - 20 more with a 4 barrel carburetor. Many of the other models have been souped up to 200 or more.

Miss Joan Kirk Is Honored With Bridal Shower

Mrs. Arnold Kirk and Mrs. Clyde Pinkerton of Milano entertained Miss Joan Kirk, bride-elect of Kenneth Pinkerton of Austin, with a wedding shower Saturday evening.

Wedding date for the young couple has been set for December 17.

After opening the many gifts received the guests played several games.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Louis Paulsen, playing chess against Paul Morphy, deliberated 14 hours and 28 minutes before making one move. (Morphy won.)

Many New Postal Regulations Are Effective Postmaster Hays Declares

Postmaster John R. Hays of Cameron today called to the attention of mail users major new postal regulations being issued effective December 1 which will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The Post Office Department is issuing a final edition of a history-making new Postal Manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages public-interest postal regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print, Postmaster Hays explained.

This publication may be obtained at 65 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. And mail users anxious to keep abreast of all changes in this material that may be made from time may get both the pamphlet in loose-leaf format and a year's subscription to all sheets making changes for a total of $2, also from the Superintendent of Documents, the postmaster noted.

The revision of the Postal Manual, Postmaster Hays said represents what Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has described as the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U. S. Post Office Department.

The Department on October 21 issued the first preliminary edition and Postmaster General Summerfield invited the general public, as well as large mailers and postal employees, to suggest constructive revisions for incorporation into the final edition. At that time, the final edition was set for November 20, but, because of the volume of the many worthwhile suggestions offered, its publication date was moved up to the present December 1.

The final regulations have been filed with the Division of the Federal Register in Washington, and will become legally effective on December 1.

Postmaster Hays noted that the new pamphlet and the new $2. package deal give the businessmen and other large mail users the easiest, most complete method of keeping completely up to dat on postal information that they have ever had.

"The new publication is remarkable for its simplicity," he said. "Not only is it printd in easy-to-understand English, but it contains simple black and white illustrations on how to prepare material for mailing. The print is easy to understand, and is arranged in logical sections under bold-face headings.

"Not only are the regulations issued in new simplified form, but the rules themselves have been changed. A great deal of obsolet and conflicting material has been eliminated in the process."

The new booklet is so simple that if the shipping clerk, for example, in a small business is ill or absent, other employees can get a ready understanding of the postal rules from the publication, Mr. Hays said.

The booklet is also an invaluable guide for the average householder. It shows, for example, how to package fragile materials for mailing; how to attach first-class letters to packages; how stamps of unwanted denominations that are unused may be exchanged for others of different values if desired. It also tells about many other matters of special interest to all mail users, he added.

Mail users who have inquiries about any special points in connetion with the new publication may direct them to the Cameron Post Office. It should be emphasized, Postmaster Hays said, that the booklet represents the "final word" on all postal rules.

Seven Lettermen Among Yoemen Turning Out For Basketball Season; Gym Adds Clock

Coach J. R. (Dick) Young will have seven lettermen back this year with which to form his 1954-55 basketball squad. Although the Yoemen had one of the worest seasons last year since Coach Young has directed the Yoe High cage team, he explained that Cameron had a good team, but always managed to lose the games to top-notch squads by one or two points.

"This year," Coach Young said, "we'll have a much stronger squad". He continued, "I'm not predicting that we'll win district since both Georgetown and Taylor are back in full force, and with Belton expected to have a good team also."

"But our boys will stand a pretty good chance, and will hold their own over district foes", Coach Young predicted.

Returnees are Joseph Michalka, Tom Collins, Joe Lee Heitman, Leon Beale, Fred Petmecky, Jimmy Rettig and Benny Massengale.

Young stated that Clifford Angell Gene Hillman, John Duncan, Ray Green, Burk Barr, Steve Polzer, John Solomon and Fred Fleischer were all showing up in practice this week and most probably will be strong bids for berths on the A squad. A number of freshmen and sophomores are working out with Coach V. A. Adams and Young stated that as the season develops boys who show themselves to be outstanding will be advanced.

The first home game for the Cameron Yoemen has been scheduled on Decembr 14 against the LaVega Pirates. Welcoming the page season to Cameron this year will be a new score board and electric clock.

Other non-conference tilts for the Yoes find them against West and a return match with LaVega. Coach Young stated that the Yoemen will enter into at least two basketball tourneys with the Hutto tourney on Dec. 16-17 set definitely. Cameron will be hosts to a high school tournment on January 7-8 for the area AA ballclubs Coach Young announced.

Christmas Tree Can Create A Fire Hazard

Now is the time when everyone is beginning to look for that tree to put up and decorate for Christmas.

W. L. Ulich, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A & M college, says these trees create a fire hazard in the home and precautions should be taken.

Keep decorative lights clear of the tree. Lights can still be decorative without touching the branches. He says these little lights can set fire to those dry brittle branches mighty easily.

A good idea is to use colored decorations with a flood light on each side of the tree. It's just as pretty and a lot safer.

Don't ever, Ulich says, use lighted candles.

Remember, always turn out the lights on the tree when leaving the house or going to bed.

Don't let Christmas wrappings accumulate under the tree when the packages have been opened. These can easily catch fire.

You can do a lot to keep your Christmas tree green, fresh and safe by placing the end of the tree in a large can or some other container filled with wet sand.

Even though your Christmas tree is already lighted, it might be wise to check these suggestions to insure a safe as well as merry Christmas.

As a final reminder Ulich suggests getting the tree out of the house as soon after Christmas as possible.

Guests in the home of Mrs. J. L. Barmore last Friday were M and Mrs. Jim Waeeles of Fort Sulphur, La.

Texas Cotton Must Come From 7,612,779 Acres Which Is 55 Allotment To Date

Support prices and acreage allotments tell the story of cotton production in Texas for 1955.

The state's share of national production next year must come from 7,612,779 acres, which is the '55 allotment for Texas. This is compared with 7,624,000 acres harvested this year. National production for next year is set at 10,000,000 bales of upland and 30,000 bales of

The support price for upland cotton will range from 82.5 to 90 percent of parity.

John G. McHaney, extension agricultural economist says the total carryover of cotton in the U. S. on August 1, 1955 -- about the time Texas farmers harvest their new crop -- is estmated at 9,200,000 bales. This compares with a carry-1 this year. Total cotton supply for 1954-55 is estimated at 23,000,000 bales, including the carryover. Last Year's total was 22,000,000.

The economist says domestic mills are expected to consume more cotton this year. Exports are predicted to jump 700,000 bales over last year. Smaller foreign stocks and a higher rate of consumption abroad are the reasons for the expected export increase.

The Agricultural Act of 1954 calls for a "set-aside" of some 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 bales in '55. McHaney explains the amount put in set-aside will be counted when marketing quotas are computed but excluded when price supports are being figured.

Mother Shiptons Phrophecy, Derived From the Bible, Written 500 Years Ago

(Note from the editor: The following article was submitted by Jack Kemble of Cameron)

Mother Shipton, who was born in Norfolk, England, over 500 years ago, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, 1449 A. D., giving clear evidence of her close study of Scriptures and the remarkable forecasts they made concerning the times and conditions from then until now and even into the future, in a poem she wrote which summarizes prophetic truths in a simple manner of marvelous unfolding.

Mother Shipton's Prophecy

A carriage without horse shall go,
Disaster fill the world with woe;
In London Primrose Hall shall be,
Its center hold a Bishop See
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly,
Quick as the twinkling of an eye.
And waters shall great wonders do
How strange, and yet it shall come true.
Then upside down the world shall be,
And gold found at the root of tree;
Thro' tow'ring hills proud man shall ride.
No horse or ass move by his side.
Beneath the water men shall walk;
Shall ride, shall sleep, and even talk;
And in the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, as well as green.
A great man then shall come and go,
His prophecy declares it so.
In water, iron then shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found in stream or stone,
In land that is as yet unknown.
Water and fire shall wonders do,
And England shall admit a Jew.
The Jew that once was held in scorn
Shall of a Christian then be born.
A house of glass shall come to pass
In England --but alas, alas!
A war will follow with the work
Where dwells the pagan and the Turk.
The states will look in fiercest strife,
And seek to take each other's life;
When North shall thus divide the South
The eagle builds in lion's mouth.
Then tax and blood and cruel war
Shall come to every humble door.
Three times shall sunny, lovely France
Be led to play a bloody dance;
Before the people shall be free,
Three tyrant rulers shall she see;
Three rulers, in succession be
Each sprung from different Dynasty.
Then, when the fiercest fight is done,
England and France shall be as one.
The British olive next shall twine
In marriage with the German vine
Men walk beneath and over streams
Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams.
All England's sons that plow the lane
Shall oft be seen with book in hand.
The poor shall now most wisdom know.
And water, wind where corn doth grow;
Great houses stand in farflung vale,
All covered o'er with snow and hail.
And now a word in uncouth rhyme,
On what shall be in future time;
For, in those wonderous far-off days
The women shall adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear
And cut off all their locks of hair.
The'll ride astride with brazen brow,
As witches do on broomsticks now.
The love shall die and marriage cease,
The wives shall fondle cats and dogs,
And men live much the same as hogs.
In nineteen hundred twenty-six
Build houses light of straw and sticks,
For then shall might wars be planned
And fire and sword shall sweep the land,
For those who live the century
In fear and trembling this will do:
Flee to the mountains and the dens
To bog and forest and wild fens
For storms will range and oceans roar
When Gabriel stands on sea and shore;
And, as he blows his wondrous horn,
Old worlds shall die and new be born.

The first South American railwas was constructed in Chile in 1852.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. Chevrolet and General Motors set out to build the first low-priced car that would:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, skills, resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new idea? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . exciting fabrics and trim are harmonized with the whole car.

A Sensational Ride!

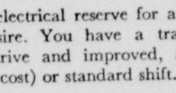

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get "heads up" stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly . . . : quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

MORE THAN A NEW CAR,
A NEW CONCEPT OF LOW-COST MOTORING

Everything's new in the
